

Reality Check

My reality check just bounced, my reality check just bounced;
You want 300 bucks for a legal ounce?!
My reality check just bounced.

My train of thought just went off the tracks,
Choo-choo-cha-boogie and clickety-clack,
To that vanishing point, never coming back,
My train of thought just went off the track.

My reality check just bounced, my reality check just bounced;
I've been eaten gluten in tall amounts, and
My reality check just bounced.

Left to all of my own devices,
I just create some crazy crisis,
Lay my money down without checking prices,
Left to all of my own devices.

My reality check just bounced, my reality check just bounced;
The Trailblazers just got trounced, and
My reality check just bounced.

Released on my own recognizance,
I do crap that doesn't make much sense,
Walk around the gate just to jump the fence,
Released on my own recognizance.

My reality check just bounced, my reality check just bounced;
That naughty cougar neighbor next door just pounced, and
My reality check just bounced.
